

Slow Theatre Company

Freelance theatre practitioners

We are looking for freelance theatre practitioners!

We are always looking to introduce new skills and new techniques to our young people. We are developing a pool of freelance theatre practitioners, for various future projects in a range of settings.

Experience required:

- A range of practical performing arts skills
- An excellent person-centred approach to engaging all young people
- Experience of workshop planning
- Experience of delivering workshops for young people aged between 5-18 years old
- Experience of guiding young people towards a performance
- Experience of co-facilitation
- Able to manage potentially complex participants and behaviours
- Self-motivated, efficient, and well organised
- Able to take responsibility while working within a team
- Committed to developing young people's skills as theatre makers, and giving participants ownership over their creative work.

Practitioners will be employed on a freelance basis and paid a competitive hourly rate.

If you would like to be considered to work for us as a practitioner, please submit your CV and a short covering letter to Danny at info@slowtheatrecompany.co.uk
